

SOC 305 Sociology of Knowledge, Science and Technology (2 Units)

The social construction/determination of knowledge claims and the examination of science and Technology as social and cultural institutions. Divergences and convergences between scientific modes of thinking and those of their human activities. Technology and development process.