

FST 413 Technical Report writing and Presentation (2 Units)

Introduction to principles of effective communication with attention to the importance of emphasis, emotive content, and style; principles of technical writing, organisation and presentation of technical reports, writing of proposals, feasibility studies, technical correspondence. Oral presentation of technical idea; technical aids in presentation, organisation of practical application.